HOW TO GIVE ACCESS TO

Google Tag Manager

Where your website's pixel and tags live

Follow the steps below to give Beatus Mídias admin access. With it, we can set up, measure and optimize everything on our end, without having to ask your permission for every change.

TIME	WHAT YOU'LL NEED	BEATUS EMAIL
3 minutes	Be logged in with the Tag Manager account's admin email, at tagmanager.google.com.	kiokurama@gmail.com

1 Open Admin

a Go to tagmanager.google.com, open your account and click the Admin tab.

b In the Account column, click User Management.

2 Add a user

b Choose Add users.

3 Fill in the invitation

a Under Email addresses, type: kiokurama@gmail.com b Under Account permissions, check Administrator.

c Under Container permissions, click Set all.

4 Allow publishing

a Check Publish (the other options are checked automatically).

b Click Done.

5 Send the invitation

a Click Invite, in the top right corner.

All set!

When you're done, let us know in our WhatsApp group. We'll check the access and get back to you there.

If something looks different

- Not sure whether your company has Tag Manager? No problem: let us know in the group and we'll check and, if needed, create the account for you.
- Don't see User Management? Your user isn't an admin on the account. Ask the person who created it (often whoever built your website) to follow this guide.
